

Just a short flight from El Salvador, you will find Panama City, the vibrant capital of Panama, known for its modern skyline, historic Casco Viejo district, and the famous Panama Canal, a marvel of engineering and global trade.

The local currency is the Panamanian balboa (PAB), which is used alongside the US dollar (USD) throughout the country.

Most travelers from Latin America do not require a visa to enter Panama. However, citizens from countries such as Afghanistan, Algeria, Bangladesh, China, Cuba, India, Iran, Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon, Libya, Nigeria, Pakistan, the Philippines, Saudi Arabia, Syria, and Vietnam need a visa to enter.

Panama Canal & City Explorer.

Day 1 begins with a warm welcome to Panama, where a transfer will be waiting at Tocumen International Airport to take guests to their hotel. This marks the start of a comfortable stay, giving travelers time to settle in.
